NIT & Injazat Form Strategic JV

Nesma Infrastructure & Technology signed an agreement with the UAE's Injazat, a G42 subsidiary, to form a new joint venture called Nesma Injazat. The new JV, headquartered in Saudi Arabia, will offer key digital services across the Kingdom to develop smart cities, enterprise applications, cloud infrastructure, cyber solutions and cybersecurity. Present at the signing were Nesma President Faisal Alturki, Nesma Chairman Fouad Alsherebi and NIT CEO Salah Al Sunaid along with Injazat's CEO and other top executives from the two firms.

The new JV combines NIT's three decades of experience in the fields of communication technology, power systems and energy infrastructure in Saudi Arabia with Injazat's expertise in digital transformation, cloud computing and cybersecurity.

The Kingdom has been investing around SAR 12 billion per year in its digital transformation according to the head of the Digital Government Authority, and Nesma Injazat hopes to play a key role in that process.

The JV agreement was signed at Gitex 2022, the five-day Gulf Information Technology Exhibit, a global tech event that brought 100,000+ attendees from over 170 countries to focus on high-tech innovations and networking in the fields of artificial intelligence, blockchain and finance. NIT collaborated with Injazat to be an exhibitor and presenter at the event.
