Spacemaker Partners with TOM

Spacemaker KSA joined forces with Tech Onshore MEP Prefabricators (TOM), a Singaporean company, by signing a joint venture (JV) agreement on February 12, 2025. TOM is a leading manufacturer of mechanical, electrical & plumbing (MEP) modulars.

The new JV plans to make MEP modulars in the Kingdom, further enhancing Spacemaker capabilities.

The agreement was signed by Spacemaker Managing Director Dany Gholmieh and Mahendran Mini Sami, General Manager of TOM, during the Public Investment Fund (PIF) and Private Sector Forum.

Modular construction contributes to the Vision 2030 goals of rapid transformation of the Kingdom with consistent quality and expertise.

“This partnership represents a pivotal advancement towards localizing the manufacturing of modular MEP systems within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, aligning with the Kingdom’s Vision 2030 and contributing to the growth of the local industrial sector.”

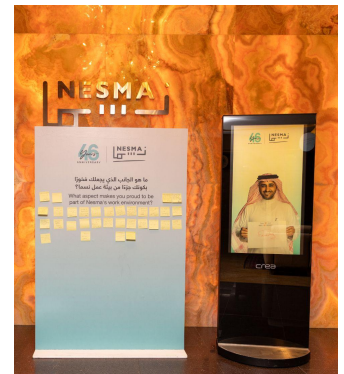

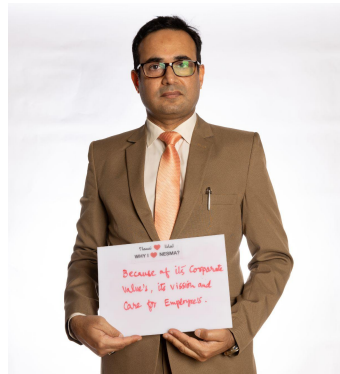

Dany Gholmieh, Managing Director, Spacemaker & NUI Deputy COO

Nesma Celebrates 46th Anniversary

Nesma marked its 46th anniversary with a weeklong celebration designed to foster camaraderie, teamwork and memorable interactions.

Activities included "Why I Love Nesma" which allowed employees to express their particular appreciation for the Company, a special event highlighting Nesma's unique work environment and a festive cake-cutting ceremony accompanied by group photos to commemorate the milestone.

These celebrations highlighted the Company's ongoing efforts to cultivate a strong and connected workplace.

Namma Cargo exhibited at SABIC Technical Meeting and Conference 2025, a four-day event held in Jubail Industrial City. The conference provided ample opportunity for networking with key decision makers, allowing Namma Cargo to expand its market base by showcasing its capabilities in freight forwarding (general & projects), warehousing and domestic services (clearance & transportation).

The technical meeting provided insights into current advancements, challenges and opportunities in the petrochemical industry. Commercial Director, Ahmad El-Ajou, delivered a presentation where he discussed the importance of freight forwarding and logistics as a pillar of Saudi Arabia's Vision 2030. The session emphasized that efficient logistics solutions are essential for economic diversification, trade facilitation and industrial growth.

Over 600 companies representing 65 countries attended the event, one of the largest of its kind.

The Employee Engagement Survey was successfully concluded on February 15th with an overall participation of 89%, up 9% from last year.

Across the Group, companies offered incentives to motivate their team members to complete the survey. Several companies offered weekly cash rewards and other gifts based on random drawings of participants' names or encouraged employees to complete the survey during a group event.

The results of the survey will drive improvements and further enrich the workplace experience.

Nesma CEO Dinner

On February 17th, Nesma CEOs and other executives gathered for a friendly dinner at Shababik restaurant, reinforcing relationships and Nesma's culture of collaboration.

NDIGITEC Updates

From January 14-16, NDIGITEC engaged in two events in Riyadh, the Gulf Print & Pack 2025 and "The Future of Packaging Empowered by Saudi Vision 2030" seminar.

The exclusive seminar, hosted by NDIGITEC Esko and BOBST, allowed label and packaging industry leaders to network, share ideas and exchange strategies for industry transformation.

At Gulf Print & Pack 2025, NDIGITEC exhibited products demonstrating its expertise in prepress, premedia, printing and packaging solutions such as recycled D-Board and flexographic printing plates.

NDIGITEC also highlighted its global flexographic plate-making services via its Flexoeasy.com site and introduced Etbaaha.com, a dedicated platform for Saudi Arabia offering instant order placement and personalized printing solutions.

Visitors to the booth also learned about the AIHI platform, integrating artificial & human intelligence, along with the 3D product visualization service that NDIGITEC offers.

The Gulf Print & Pack 2025 conference featured companies from over 20 countries.

Nesma 2025 HR Forum

On February 18th, the Nesma Corporate HR Department conducted a successful forum with HR teams from across the Group. Topics centered on Nesma culture, employment & empowerment, training & development, HR & artificial intelligence and Saudi labor law.

Nesma Security Blood Drive

Nesma Security received appreciation from King Fahd Specialist Hospital in Dammam for contributing to the hospital's blood bank.

The success of the blood drive, initiated by Nesma Security, stems from the collective effort and generosity of the team members who supported the cause. On January 15, a total of 28 employees expressed interest in donating, highlighting their commitment to this humanitarian initiative, which ultimately contributed to the hospital's blood supply.

Nesma Training Center Seminars

Nesma Training Center (NTC) hosted an English language skills session targeting high school and university students. Focused on impromptu speaking, the one-day workshop drew 97 participants.

NTC also hosted "Fundamentals of Financial Awareness," a presentation for the general public delivered by the Educational Awareness and Cultural Co. that attracted around 100 attendees.

Namat News

Namat has introduced Ramadan prayer kits, inspired by Saudi Arabia's landscapes and incorporating lavender for peace and harmony. You can purchase your kit at: Homegrown Market in Rawdah, Hayy, Virgin and AlUla or at Zmakan store, Red Sea Mall or Dar3en.com

Namat also completed an order from SABIC to create exclusive, locally manufactured gifts. Both products were crafted using eco-friendly, reusable fabrics, reinforcing Namat's commitment to sustainability and quality. The laptop sleeve displayed a Sadu-inspired pattern, reflecting Saudi craftsmanship while the tote bag, with embroidered SABIC logo and Founding Day emblem, blended corporate identity with cultural heritage.

SABIC greatly appreciated the products noting their high quality and cultural significance.

For Founding Day, each Namat branch hosted a celebration. The Thuwal branch uniquely held an outdoor gathering within the same building, creating a refreshing experience for attendees.
